

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL MADE PUBLIC

Measure Is Agreed On by House Committee, and Carries Appropriation of $43,000,000.

TO BE PRESSED FOR PASSAGE

Advocates of Waterway Improvements From Various Sections Make Urgent Appeals.

Washington, February 12.—The rivers and harbors appropriation bill, carrying $43,000,000 for waterway improvements throughout the country, to-day was formally made public. Chairman Sparkman, of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, soon will report it to the House, and press for its speedy passage.

Last year's legislation for harbor bill carried appropriations aggregating about $45,000,000. This year's appropriations are larger than was at first contemplated, because of the urgent appeals of advocates of waterway improvements from various parts of the country.

The bill, in addition to the large number of appropriations for continuing work already in progress in many States, provides for many new projects. The sum of $13,400,000 is provided for developing the East River and removing the Hell Gate and other ledges there that threaten navigation in New York Harbor. Other projects include the purchase of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal between Chesapeake and Delaware Bays for $1,500,000, and its development for commerce and navigation, and a $1,000,000 appropriation for improvement of the Mississippi from its mouth to Rock Island.

The bill does not provide for the proposed waterway from the Chesapeake Bay to New York, upon which the War Department has adversely reported. The project is part of the ultimate scheme for an intercoastal waterway from Boston to New Orleans.

Both the army engineering board and the Rivers and Harbors Committee agreed that the time was not yet ripe for an appropriation for the proposed waterway.

Southern Rivers and Harbors. Many Southern rivers and harbors received appropriations under the bill, both for immediate use, and, in some cases, larger appropriations for total projects, where the work will require several years for completion. These included:

Virginia—Norfolk Harbor and channel to Newport News, $270,000; Mattaponi and Pamunkey Rivers and Chesapeake and Aquia Creeks, $7,000; Rappahannock River, $10,000; Nansemond River, $7,000; James River, $200,000; Appomattox River, $5,000; Blackwater River, $2,000; Hampton Creek, $27,000; Tangle Creek, $16,474; Outer Banks, $11,250; Lookin Creek, $4,100; Occoquan Creek, $21,500; waterway on the coast of Virginia, $1,000.

Virginia and North Carolina—Inland waterway from Norfolk to Chesapeake Inlet, N. C., $800,000; waterway from Norfolk, Va., to the sounds of North Carolina, $3,000.

North Carolina—Cape Fear River, $100,000; Beaufort Inlet, $10,000; Morehead City Harbor, $2,000; Meherrin River, $1,000; Roanoke River, $2,000; Sappony River, $3,000; Fishing Creek, $1,000; Pamlico and Tar Rivers, $18,500; Bay River, $1,000; Contentnea Creek, $2,000; Smith's Creek, $2,000; Neuse and Trent Rivers, $37,000; Swift Creek, $100; Northeast and Black Rivers and Cape Fear River, above Wilmington (open channel work), $13,000; Cape Fear River, at below Wilmington, $150,000; Shallowford River, $1,000; Bennett River, $5,000; Deep Creek, $5,000; Newhogen Creek, $5,000; waterway from Pamlico Sound to Beaufort Inlet, $200,000; New River, including waterways between New River and Swansboro and between Beaufort Harbor and New River, $25,000.

South Carolina and Georgia—Waterway from Charleston, S. C., to Savannah, Ga., $50,000.

South Carolina—Charleston Harbor, $15,000; Great Pee Dee River, $10,000; Santee River and Edgemoorville, Minn Creek Canal, $10,000; Wateree and Congaree Rivers, $20,000; Jeremy Creek, $5,000; McEllanville Wharf, $4,000; waterway, new project adopted to be prosecuted with funds on hand; waterway from Orangeburg to Charleston, $25,000.

South Carolina and Georgia—Waterway from Charleston, S. C., to Savannah, Ga., $50,000.

GRAND MONUMENTAL SITE

Formal Beginning of Magnificent Structure in Memory of Abraham Lincoln.

LAUDED BY EX-CONFEDERATE

Only Small Crowd Witnesses

Significant Event in Potomac Park.

Washington, February 12.—While freezing winds swept across the Potomac from the Virginia hills, where stands the Lee Mansion, at Arlington, a bare-headed Confederate officer to-day opened the simple exercises that marked the breaking of the ground for the construction of the marble memorial to the nation is about to erect to Abraham Lincoln. This day, the 105th anniversary of Lincoln's birth, was chosen for the breaking of the ground for the $200,000 structure.

Only a small group gathered to witness the significant event. Joseph C. S. Blackburn, former Senator from Kentucky, was the first to sink a spade into the ground, and then with uncovered head, he spoke in high praise of the memory of the President, against whom he fought a half century ago.

This memorial will show that Lincoln is now regarded as the greatest of all Americans," said Senator Blackburn, "and that he is so held by the South, as well as the North. To-day we let the country know that this great work has been begun, and will be carried on steadily until its completion."

Seek Turns With Spade.

M. F. Cramer, Toledo, Ohio; Colonel W. W. Hart, Lieutenant J. A. O'Connor, U. S. A.; H. A. Vall, John Bethune and Henry Bacon sought turns with the spade for the honor of aiding in starting the building of the memorial.

In the Senate to-day it was a Southerner who made the motion to adjourn out of respect to the memory of Lincoln. The motion was made with prearrangement by Senator Overman, North Carolina, following the reading of the former President's Gettysburg address by Senator Bradley, Kentucky.
